Dedicated,

BY PERMISSION,

TO

SIR FRANCIS WYATT TRUSCOTT, Kt.,

ALDERMAN AND LATE LORD MAYOR OF THE CITY OF LONDON.

IN PUTTING FORTH THE FOLLOWING CONTRIBUTION TO THE HISTORY OF YOUR NATIVE COUNTY, A COUNTY RICH IN HISTORICAL MEMORIES, I FEEL IT CANNOT APPEAR UNDER BETTER AUSPICES THAN THAT OF YOURSELF, NOT ALONE FROM THE FACT OF YOUR NAME HAVING ADDED LUSTRE TO THE LONG LIST OF CORNISH WORTHIES, BY YOUR HAVING BEEN CALLED LAST YEAR TO HOLD THE OFFICE OF CHIEF MAGISTRATE OF THE MOST POWERFUL CITY OF THE WORLD, BUT ALSO FROM THE EVER READY ENCOURAGEMENT RENDERED BY YOU TO THE CAUSE OF LITERATURE AND ART.

SHOULD THE PROMINENCE WHICH YOUR NAME GIVES THIS WORK STIMULATE THE PUBLICATION OF OTHER REGISTERS, IT WILL RENDER YOU, I AM SURE, NO LITTLE SATISFACTION; AND AT THE SAME TIME GAIN YOU THE GRATITUDE OF A MUCH WIDER CIRCLE THAN THAT OF GENEALOGISTS ONLY, IN THE PRESENT AND IN COMING GENERATIONS, AS WELL AS THAT OF

YOUR MOST OBEDIENT SERVANT,

ARTHUR J. JEWERS.

PLYMOUTH, April, 1881.

PREFACE.

If the Parish Registers of St. Columb Major had any special claim to be printed, it was not from their being so decayed they were on the point of perishing altogether, but rather from their being unusually perfect from almost the earliest to which such Registers go back, and from the number of entries relating to prominent county families that it contains, and the lingering traces of the "older religion," shewn in the burial of chauntry priests and chrisomers contained in its pages, which, while it gives more general interest, it must be doubted whether it gives them a prior claim over some of the dilapidated and fast-decaying registers which I have had occasion to consult in the course of preparing this volume and other kindred works, the only hope for the preservation of which is their being printed, and that before very long, or they must be irreparably lost, there being no other means of recovering the valuable information they contain, information often going beyond the bare legal entries of baptism, marriage, or burial.

It has been urged by some that only extracts relating to the more important persons recorded should be printed, but surely the objections to such a plan are self-evident. Why select persons only who were particularly prominent? or who shall say what entries will be of no use? the probability being that all, sooner or later, will be needed, and further, for public utility and historical value they must be an entire and very careful copy of the original.

It is difficult for any one who has not actual knowledge of the state of the case to comprehend the risk of destruction to which both parish registers and the monumental records in our parish churches are exposed; of the latter, after carefully noting them from a number of churches, and then revisiting the same churches after they have undergone so-called restoration, it will be a matter of no small surprise how much has disappeared; in many cases this is unavoidable, from their being too dilapidated and obliterated to be preserved when once touched, though more often a matter of taste with the clergyman or architect.

Reverting to the St. Columb Major's Registers, it will be quite unnecessary to enter into any extended account of them or digest of their contents, beyond a few explanatory remarks. With the exception of the weddings for about twenty years, from about 1760 to 1780, the whole of the Register which has been printed is written on parchment, in three volumes. The first volume, a long narrow folio, is for a large part beautifully written by one hand, being a copy from an earlier book, but towards the end it seems to have been indifferently kept and worse written. The baptisms commence in 1540; the weddings in 1544; and the burials in 1539; the whole being continued down to 1653.

The second volume is a large square folio, beginning in 1653, and ends in 1757. At the end of this volume is a record of the briefs read in the church, with the object for which they were made, and the amount collected, in accordance with an Act of Parliament 4 & 5 Queen Anne. Their objects vary, from the repair of churches to the assistance of individuals visited by misfortune; although of much interest, they hardly come within the scope of the present work; and also the following:—

"A register of such children as have been borne in ye parish of St Columb Major, and not baptised, of whom notice has been given according to ye Act of Parliament.

"John ye son of Bernard and Mary Rowse was borne ye 25 Oct. 1705.
Joseph son of Oliver Basely was borne ye 28 of May 1706."

These are the only two entries under this head.

The third is a smaller volume, and contains baptisms and burials only, from 1758 to 1812. On the inside of the front cover is the following record:—

"Lady Frances Gifford, Relict of Sr John Gifford, Bart., died February the 28th and was buried the 21st of March, 1751. J. Collier, Curate.

"The above copy was taken from the Registers of St. Columb Major in the county of Cornwall on Thursday ye 15th day of February, 1787.

Thos Colericke, Curate."

At the end of the same volume are the following entries:—

"Buried at St Wenn July ye 31 Joan Sandy, aged an hundred years and above, 1784.

"In ye year 1775 on ye 12 Day of February being Sunday, the Tower and church of this Parish were greatly damaged by Lightening at half an Hour past Four in the morning."

The remaining volumes are on paper, in printed forms.

Among singular entries may be noted, as shewing how slowly surnames came into general use in remote parts among the humbler classes, the burial, in 1584, of Anthonie the Smith; in 1586, Stephen the Myller; in 1589, John the Thacher; and, even as late as 1603, that of Robert the Farrier. Among the marriages we meet such entries as the following: William Reve and Jane, servant to Michaell Nanskevell, in 1545; in 1556, Luke and Margery, servants to John Spraye; in 1621, John Dayes man and mayde. Of centenarians we have, in 1611, Thomas Tior, said in the entry to be 122 years of age by common report; and on the 29 Jan. 1791 was buried William Hicks of Criftoe in this parish, who was baptised 14th Feb. 1689, as is recorded in the burial entry: the baptism was probably at some other church, possibly at St. Wenn, as the entry does not appear in these Registers.

We pass readily from the Registers themselves to the families recorded in them. Holding the foremost place we find the Arundells of Lanherne in the adjoining parish of Mawgan, who had a grant, 7 Edward I. 1279 (to John de Arundell), of the right to hold a fair in their manor of St. Columb Major on the feast of St. Columba the Virgin, 23 Oct. in each year, and a market on Thursday in every week. The heiress of Arundell of Lanherne carried the representation through the family of Bealing to that of Lord Arundell of Wardour, descended from Sir Thomas Arundell, second son of Sir John Arundell of Lanherne, by his first wife Lady Eleanor, daughter of Thomas Grey, Marquis of Dorset; thus uniting the two lines which are represented by John Francis, twelfth and present Lord Arundell of Wardour; and we are indebted to his lordship for the Arundell bookplate.

The Hoblyns, who resided for many generations at their seat of Nanswhyden, where Robert Hoblyn, Esq., M.P. (called by Davies Gilbert "that bright ornament of his family and county"), accumulated a magnificent library, which was taken to Bath and sold by auction by his successor in the property, the Rev. Robert Hoblyn, M.A., J.P., the sale lasting six weeks, catalogues 10s. 6d. each, one of which is in the British Museum. The mansion was burnt to the ground in 1803, and that part of the estate sold. Their present representative, William Paget Hoblyn, Esq., M.A., J.P., built a residence, "The Fir Hill," in the adjoining parish of Little Colan, where he chiefly resides with his family, and to whom we are indebted for the use of the armorial bookplate of the above Robert Hoblyn, Esq., M.P. The plate originally had the following inscription, as is shewn by old impressions, viz., "R. H., C.C.C., Oxon, Comm'," the above Robert Hoblyn, Esq., having been of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. I am indebted to the following, who have kindly acceded to my request for the loan of their respective bookplates, viz., William Hoblyn, Esq., M.R.C.S., for that of his father, the late Rev. Edward Hoblyn, M.A., Vicar of Mylor-cum-Mabe, and to Richard Armstrong Hoblyn, Esq., for the loan of his own plate.

The Vivians were originally of Trenouth, in St. Columb, and then at Truan in the same parish, where they still have a stately house. Their line terminated in an heiress married to Sir Richard Vyvyan, Bart., of Trelowarren, from which marriage descends the present Richard Henry Stackhouse Vyvyan, Esq., of Truan. The family of Retallick or Retallack, which for many generations held an honourable position in the neighbourhood, is continued in the person of the present Francis Retallack, Esq., J.P., of Chytane, in the adjoining parish of St. Enoder.

The name of Rowse, which occurs very frequently, almost from the commencement of the Registers, and often in a substantial position, is still represented in two branches by Mr. Henry Jenkyn Rowse of Carworgy, and Mr. John Rowse of Trebudanon, both in St. Columb.

In the parish, or its immediate vicinity, there appear to have been two distinct families of Hicks, one belonging to the Cornish family of Hicks or Hext, and bearing for arms, Or, a tower triple turreted between three battle-axes sable, of which family were Hicks of Luxilyan and Hext of Constantine, of whom brief pedigrees were entered at the Heralds' Visitation in 1620; and the same coat is depicted (impaling Vivian of Truan, viz., Or, a chevron azure between three lions' heads erased proper, a chief gules) on the monument of the Rev. Richard Hicks, Rector of St. Ervan, who died in 1708, aged sixty-five; and of Eleanor his wife, who died in 1705, which remains in the church of St. Ervan, the inscription almost obliterated. The other family of Hicks claim to be descended from the family of Sir Baptist Hicks, Viscount Campden. Of this family there are two distinct branches, namely, Hicks of Retallick, and Hicks of Lanhynsworth; of the latter line are Richard Hicks, Esq., J.P., of Hartley Lodge, Compton, Plymouth, and his son Francis Hicks, Esq., of Burrington Park, near Plymouth. In both these branches the traditional descent from the Gloucestershire stock is maintained, together with the arms of the Campden line, and given quite separately by both branches, viz., Gules, a fesse wavy between three fleurs-de-lis or. Crest: a stag's head couped or, gorged by a chaplet of roses gules. But there is difficulty in tracing back the descent to its spring, both branches having neglected to keep any record, and they consequently can supply little information for establishing the connection. The same tradition seems to have been held when Davies Gilbert wrote his 'History of Cornwall.'

The family of Nankivell, who entered their pedigree at the Heralds' Visitation of 1620, appear to be represented by John Hicks Nankivell, Esq., M.R.C.S., of York. The following have ceased to exist in the parish:—Carter, lords of the manor of St. Columb, represented by Hoblyn. Part of their property, known as the "Carter Rocks," lying off the adjacent coast, is possessed by the present W. Paget Hoblyn, Esq., descended from Mary, second daughter and co-heiress of John Carter, Esq., of St. Columb; the other co-heiresses being Honour, married to William Silly, gent., and Jane, married to Giles Riseden, gent.

Jenkyn of Trekenning became extinct in the direct line on the death of James Jenkyn, Esq., in 1658, who left five daughters his co-heiresses, viz., Ann, married Sir John St. Aubyn, Bart., and was mother of Sir John St. Aubyn, second Bart.; Mary, third wife of Sir Nicholas Slanninge, Knt. and Bart., but left no issue; Katherine, married John Trelawny, Esq., son of Sir Jonathan Trelawny, Bart. (she died without issue); Elizabeth, married to Sir George Cary of Clovelly; and Frances, who died unmarried. The present representative of Sir John St. Aubyn, the Rev. St. Aubyn Hender Molesworth-St. Aubyn, of Clowance, has very kindly lent the Molesworth and Molesworth-St. Aubyn bookplates. The older St. Aubyn plates appear to have perished in the fires which occurred at Clowance in 1837 and 1843.

Kete or Keate. This family appears to have become extinct in the St. Columb lines long since. A younger branch, descended from Gilbert, fourth son of Ralph Kete, buried at St. Columb in 1602, were raised to the degree of baronets in 1660, which title became extinct on the death of the Rev. Sir William Keate, fourth baronet, without issue, in 1757.

The family of Crewse, who were for several generations connected with this parish, were probably a branch of the old Devonshire family of that name, but their connection has not been ascertained.

The probable connection of the Godolphins of St. Columb with the noble Cornish family of Godolphin is pointed out in the note at page 65.

The family of Brabyn, which held a good position and was connected by marriage with the families of Carter and Jenkyn, was probably a branch of Brabyn of St. Minver, who entered their pedigree at the College of Arms about 1635. (With these arms, viz., Argent, on a fesse couped gules, three leopards' faces or.)

The family of Day also held a fair position; but the name of Thomas Day of St. Columb Major appears in the list of those whose claim to use armorial bearings was disallowed by the Heralds at Truro, 6 October, 1620.

The Warnes seem to have flourished and multiplied in the neighbourhood between St. Columb and Padstow, and the name still continues; but the family formerly resident for several generations in St. Columb appear to have died out in the male line; the co-heiress married Rawlings and Dungey, as mentioned on page 172 and page 174. Towards the close of the seventeenth century two brothers (sons of Stephen Warne of St. Columb) settled in the neighbourhood of East Anthony; the elder, Mr. William Warne of Thanckes in East Anthony, left an only daughter, married to Captain Thomas Graves, R.N. (father by his second wife of the first Lord Graves), to whom she carried the estate of Thanckes. The other brother, Simon Warne, left a son Simon, who took the name of Ward, and had issue (see Register extracts, Maker) two sons, Simon, whose only daughter and heiress married John Friend, Esq.; and William, who died without surviving issue.

The foregoing brief notice of some of the more prominent names in these Registers may not be unacceptable, though far from complete, but the very carefully prepared and exhaustive pedigrees given by Colonel Vivian in his work 'The Visitations of Cornwall,' render it quite superfluous to enter into fuller particulars of them here. Many of the old names still exist in the parish, while some have disappeared as above. Before leaving this part of our subject it may be interesting to state that Mr. Nelson D. Adams, of Washington, considers that some members of the St. Columb family of Adams were among the early settlers in America, and ancestors of some of the present families of the name in that country, the evidences of which will doubtless be fully set forth in the work which that gentleman has in hand, and which will doubtless be as elaborate and exhaustive as some previous works of the same description by our American cousins.

Successive restorations and improvements (?) have swept away any monuments of the families of Carter, Jenkyn, or Keate, that may have existed. According to Davies Gilbert, when he wrote his 'History of Cornwall,' there was in the church a monument to some of the family of Moore, consisting of a slate slab with inscription and these arms, Sable, a swan close within a bordure engrailed argent; and the Arundell brasses were much more extensive than now. The monuments were certainly much reduced on the restoration of the church by the late Rector Dr. Walker, who offered a fine bust of Robert Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, Esq., M.P., taken from a monument to his memory by the Rev. Edward Hoblyn, M.A., Vicar of Mylor-cum-Mabe, and it remains in the possession of his daughters, the Misses Hoblyn of Pentrelew, while other portions of various monuments are said to have been buried in the churchyard. This will doubtless be considered sufficient reason for briefly recording what yet remains.

Commencing with the monuments of the Arundells as the most ancient, we find that contrary to the brasses at Mawgan-in-Pydar, which have been recently re-fixed, these at St. Columb remain firmly fixed to the stone slabs by apparently the original fastenings. They were originally in the Arundell chapel (a chauntry built by the Arundells on the south side of the chancel of the parish church), and were, early in the present century, covered with some pews which were then placed in the chapel; on the restoration of the church a few years since, the chapel being re-pewed, they were removed to their present position, which is an unfortunate selection, as it subjects them to a large amount of wear from the feet of persons passing over them, they being on the floor of the nave immediately below the chancel steps.

They are composed of two large slabs of grey marble; the one on the south side, which is the oldest by nearly one hundred years, is in memory of Sir John Arundell, father of Sir John Arundell with whom commences the pedigree of Arundell of Lanherne, in the Heralds' Visitation of Cornwall in 1620, vide Harleian publications. The stone measures 7 feet 4 inches by 3 feet 9 inches; around it, 3 inches from the edge, is a plain fillet of brass bearing this inscription: "✠ John Arundell Knyght of ye Bath and Knyght Banneret Recey[ver of] ye Duchye of Cornwall ffirst ma[ryed y Lady] Elizabeth Grey daughter to the Lorde Marquis of Dorset & [Catherine] daughter of Syr Thomas Gr[enville Knyght & dyed ye ey]ght of ffebruary the xxxvi yere of the reigne of Kyng Henry the eyght An^o^ Domini 1545 and ye yere of his age."

The brass bearing those parts of the inscription enclosed in brackets has been lost. In the upper part of the stone are the figures in brass of Sir John Arundell and his two wives, whose parentage is given in the above inscription. They are finely cut. Sir John is in the military costume of that period; behind his right shoulder rises a staff bearing a square banner, but unfortunately the matrix alone tells us this, as the brass itself of this with the crest and a portion of the helmet and lambrequin, upon which the head of the knight rests, has long since disappeared; the banner was probably charged with the quartered coat of Arundell without any impalement. Over the lady on the right hand of the knight, and whose head rests on a square cushion, is a shield with the following arms, viz.: Per pale, the dexter quarterly of six,—1. Six swallows (Arundell); 2. Four fusils conjoined in fesse (Dynham); 3. In chief a double arch, in base a single one (Arches); 4. An escutcheon within an orle of martlets (Chideocke of Chideocke, co. Dorset); 5. A bend (Carminow); 6. As the first. Impaling, quarterly of eight,—1. Barry of six, in chief three roundels (Grey, Marquis of Dorset); 2. A maunche (Hastings); 3. Barry of ten, an orle of martlets (de Valence, Earl of Pembroke); 4. Seven mascles conjoined three, three and one (de Quincy, Earl of Winchester); 5. Gone, probably a cinquefoil, for Bellomont, Earl of Leicester; 6. Gone, probably a fesse and canton, for Widville, Earl Rivers; 7. Six mullets, pierced, three, two and one (Bonville); 8. A fret (Harrington); for Sir John and his first wife, who was Elizabeth, daughter of Thomas Grey, first Marquis of Dorset (by his second wife, Cecilia, daughter and heir of William, Lord Bonville and Harrington); Sir J. B. Burke calls this lady Eleanor, not Elizabeth, as on the brass.

Over the lady on the left hand of the knight is a shield, Arundell as before, impaling, 1 and 4, Three sufflues, or organ rests (Grenville); 2 and 3, on a bend three roundels (Whitleigh), for the second wife of Sir John, and daughter of Sir Thomas Grenville of Stowe, Knt.; beneath the principal figures, which measure 29 inches in height, are two shields, flanked on either side by a small figure with a fillet of brass over each for their names; both the fillets are gone, as are also the figure and shield on the right hand side; they probably represented Sir John Arundell and his arms, ancestor of the Arundells of Lanherne and Chideocke: the head of the remaining figure is also gone, the shield is charged with the arms of Arundell quarterly as above, impaling, quarterly of four, 1. Howard, Duke of Norfolk; 2. De Brotherton; 3. Warren; 4. Mowbray. These are for Sir Thomas Arundell, Knt., who married Margaret, daughter and co-heir of Lord Edmund Howard, third son of Thomas, Duke of Norfolk; she was sister to Catherine, fifth wife of Henry VIII.; Sir Thomas Arundell was the second son of Sir John by his first wife, Lady Elizabeth Grey, and was ancestor of the present Lords Arundell of Wardour.

Beneath these, again, are the matrixes of two groups of children, the only part of the brass of these remaining being the label over the group to the spectator's right, which bears the names, "Joan Eleanor Mary." Below these, and forming the lowest part of the monument, are four shields, the second of which is pointed out by the matrix only: they are as follows:—First shield, per pale the dexter quarterly, 1 and 4, on a bend ermines, cotised, three boars' heads couped (Edgcumbe); 2 and 3, Semée-de-lis, and a lion rampant gardant (Holland). Impaling Arundell quarterly of six as above. Elizabeth, daughter of Sir John Arundell, married Sir Richard Edgcumbe of Mount Edgcumbe, Knt., Sheriff of Devon 35 Henry VIII.; Sir Richard married, secondly, Winefred, daughter of William Essex, Esq. The second shield is gone, but was doubtless charged with the arms of Arundell as above, for Jane, daughter of Sir John Arundell, who died unmarried in 1577, her will dated 2 Sep. 1575, was proved 31 Oct. 1577. Third shield, per pale, the dexter quarterly of eight, 1. A bend engrailed (Ratcliffe); 2. A fesse between two chevrons (Fitz-Walter); 3. A lion rampant crowned within a bordure; 4. A saltire engrailed; 5. Gone; 6. Three bars; 7. Semée-de-lis; 8. An infant swaddled, thereon an eagle preying, wings addorsed. Impaling Arundell quarterly as above.

Mary, daughter of the said Sir John Arundell, married Robert Ratcliffe, K.G., Earl of Sussex, so created 8 December, 1529; she was his third wife, the first being Elizabeth, daughter of Henry, Duke of Buckingham, and the second was Margaret, daughter of Thomas, Earl of Derby; his lordship died in 1542, having issue by his third wife, a son, Sir John Ratcliffe, Knt., obiit sine prole. Fourth shield, per pale the dexter quarterly of four, 1. A lion rampant (Fitz-Alan); 2. Three bars; 3. A fesse and canton (Widville); 4. 1 and 4 a fret, 2 and 3 a chief (Maltravers); impaling Arundell quarterly as above. The last-named Mary Arundell, widow of Robert, Earl of Sussex, married secondly to Henry Fitz-Alan, 18th Earl of Arundell, K.G.; she was his second wife, the first being her cousin Lady Catherine Grey, daughter of Thomas, 2nd Marquis of Dorset, by which lady the Earl alone had issue, viz., a son, who died sine prole, and two daughters, his co-heirs, Joanna, married John, Lord Lumley, and died sine prole; and Mary, married Thomas Howard, Duke of Norfolk, by which marriage the Earldom and Castle of Arundell came to the Howards.

The other brass, or rather series of brasses—for it consists, as does the one before noticed, of several separate pieces let into a large ledger stone measuring 6 feet 10 inches by 3 feet 5 inches—is in a very good state of preservation, and quite complete. At the top of the stone, in the centre is a shield per pale, six swallows (Arundell) impaling on a bend three bucks' heads caboshed (Stanley); over the dexter coat a helmet surmounted by the crest of Arundell, a wolf passant, on a wreath; over the sinister coat a helmet supporting the crest of Stanley, viz., on a wreath an infant swaddled, thereon an eagle preying, wings addorsed, all backed by a mantling. To the dexter of this shield is another, charged with six martlets (Arundell), and to the sinister a third shield with the arms of Stanley, as in the impaled coat. Beneath these are figures of Sir John Arundell, Knt., in the military costume of the period, and his lady; on the right of the knight two sons kneeling, and on the left of his wife are four daughters, also kneeling, all above an oblong brass with the following inscription in Roman characters :—

"D. O. M.

"In hoc Divi Colvmbi Magnorvm sepvltvra Arvndeliorvm vbi intemerata fvlgent sacra atrato hoc marmore tegitvr Depositvm Nobil^{mj} Ioannis Arvndelij ord. Eqvest. vna cvm sva conivge Anna Stanley filia Thomæ ill^{mj} Comitis Derbiensis. Horvm progenies dvo fvere filii Ioannes et Georgivs, filiæ vero qvinqve Dorothæ, Elizabetha, Cicilia, Margareta, Gertrvda.

"Depositarij hi vt sangvine ita et virtvtibvs Clavere, Amorque Patris in Ioannem Filium Parentibus, exemplo fvit vixere hic ad 60, illa ad 71 ætatis annvm et postmodvm hic positi svnt ad svos maiores, ille 17 Novem. illa 22° Sept. A° Salvtis ille 1590, illa 1602."

Below this are three more shields: first, Arundell alone, without any quarters; second, Arundell alone, impaling, three lozenge-shaped buckles, the points of the tongues to the dexter (Jarnegan or Jerningham), surmounted by two helmets, the one on the dexter side bearing the crest of Arundell as above, the other that of Jerningham, namely, from a crest coronet a falcon's head between two wings expanded, the whole surrounded by a mantling. The third shield, Jerningham, as in the impaled coat. These are followed by the figures of John Arundell, Esq., in armour, with the long leather boots then in use; on his right four sons standing; on his left his wife, who has on her left seven daughters standing. These figures surmount a second oblong plate of brass bearing the inscription that here follows :—

"D. O. M.

"Eodem svb marmore svnt etiam Deposita Nobil^{mi} viri Joannis Arvndelij filii hvivsce eqvitis, et Annæ Iarnegan svæ Conivgis fæminæ vt Religione præstantis; ita clarissimo orivndæ stemmate Illvstrissimorvm Baronvm de Dacres Partivm Borealivm.

"His filii qvatvor, Ioannes, Michæl, Thomas, Georgivs, filiæqve septem, Maria Magdalena, Maria, Anna, Catherina, Dorothea, Winefreda, vt in Ioanne Patre ita in Ioanne hic sepvlto filio incalvit relativa affectio, adeo vt amori Paterno plene responsa dederit filij Pietas, qvi vt possessionvm, ita et virtvtvm amplam hæriditatem accepit, Obiit 22° Ivlij, Scalari svo A° septvagesimo nimirvm ascendens ad Reqviem laboribvs et doloribvs annorvm exemtvs salvtis vero hvmanæ 1633."

There is a small brass near the priests' door in the chapel on the north side of the chancel, 16 inches by 12, bearing the following inscription and these arms, viz., in a lozenge-shaped shield, with lines to shew the colours, surrounded by floral scrolls, quarterly, 1 and 4, Azure, three stirrups with leathers Or, within a bordure engrailed Argent pellettée; 2. Argent, two bars nebulée sable, on a canton gules, a mullet Argent, pierced; 3. Sable, three infants' heads couped below the shoulder, each environed round the neck with a snake; on an escutcheon of pretence, Sable, six swallows argent, three, two, and one (Arundell).

"Dame Frances Gifford relict of
Sr Jno Gifford Bart
died Febry 28th 1752
aged 48 years."

The four following are from floor slabs in the south chancel aisle, or Lady Chapel:

(1.) Arms: Six swallows (Arundell) impaling a pale and three bucks' heads erased (Roper). In the centre of the dexter coat was originally the badge of a baronet, but it has been erased. Crest: a wolf passant, over a knight's helmet.

"Here lyeth inter'd ye Body of
who died October the 13th 1701
Aged 78 years.
Requiescat in Pace."

This slab was originally inscribed "Bart.," over which "Knt" is engraved.

(2) Arms: A cross between four crosses pattée fitchée (Bealing), on an escutcheon of pretence (Arundell); impaling Arundell. Crest: Over an esquire's helmet, on a wreath a demi lion rampant, holding between its paws a cross pattée fitchée.

"Here lyeth the Body of
Sr Richard Bealings
who died October the 30th 1716
Aged 94 years.
Requiescat in Pace."

(3.) Arms: quarterly 1 and 4, Arundell; 2 and 3, Bealing, impaling a cross saltire (Gage).

"Here lyeth the Body of
Mrs. Ann Arundell
who died August the 25th 1718
Aged 34 years.
Requiescat in Pace."

This lady was second daughter of Joseph Gage, Esq., of Sherborne Castle (fourth son of Sir Thomas Gage of Firle, second Bart., by Mary, eldest daughter and co-heiress of John Chamberlain, Esq., of Sherborne Castle, co. Oxford), by his wife Elizabeth, daughter and eventual heir of George Penruddock, Esq. She was sister of Thomas, first Viscount Gage.

(4.) Arms: Bealing, on an escutcheon of pretence, Arundell; impaling Arundell.

"Here lyeth the Body of the Lady Frances Bealings who died December the 16th 172 .
aged 63 years.
Requiescat in Pace."

A portion of this last slab is covered by a pew.

The remaining monuments are, with one exception, in the north chancel aisle, or Jesus Chapel, and are as follows:—

On a ledger stone (or floor slab) these arms: Three talbots passant, impaling a fesse between two flaunches ermine. Crest almost obliterated. It is in memory of Giles Hamley of St. Columb Major, second son of William Hamley of Trebelthicke, in ~~Great~~ St Mabyn, co. Cornwall. He married first, Barbara daughter of Philip Hawkins of Pennance, gent., by whom he had no issue; and he married secondly, Grace, daughter of Thomas Hoblyn of Tresaddern, gent., who, with six children, survived him. The above Giles Hamley died 20 Sept. 1738, aged 41.

A floor slab for Grace Hamley, who died 20 Nov. 1786. (This slab is almost obliterated.)

Another partly obliterated floor slab for Grace, wife of Thomas Hamley, clerk, and daughter of the Rev. John Tregenna, Rector of Mawgan, by Elizabeth his wife. She died 19 April, 1761, aged 23. The above Thomas Hamley, clerk, died 9 June, 1766, aged 35.

Another floor slab for Johanna Hamley, daughter of Giles Hamley, gent., and Grace his wife, died 25 May, 1760, aged 32.

Ledger stone against the wall on the north side of the altar, for Thomas Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, Esq., who died Dec. 1635, aged 69. On it are three shields, viz., in the centre, quarterly: 1, A fesse between two flaunches ermine; 2, On a bend three swallows volant, in chief a crescent for difference; 3, Per chevron, in base a lozenge; 4, On a fesse three escallops, in chief a crescent for difference. This is between two other shields, viz., on the dexter, a chevron between three trefoils (Trevalcois); on the sinister side four fusils ermine, within a border of the second (Dynham).

Mural tablet with a shield, from which the arms are quite gone. It is in memory of Robert Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, Esq., who married Jane, only daughter of Thomas Coster, Esq., of Bristol, and Jane (Rous) his wife. He died 17 November, 1756, aged 46.

Mural tablet in memory of Edward Hoblyn of Tresaddern, Esq., who died 20 May, 1778, aged 69. Also, Ann Hoblyn, relict of the above Edward Hoblyn, Esq., and daughter of John Peter of Harlyn, Esq., who died 30 April, 1791, aged 85.

Floor slab, nearly obliterated. Robert Hoblyn, youngest son of the above Thomas Hoblyn. (The remainder of the inscription quite illegible.)

A mural tablet, surmounted by the arms of Vivian, with helmet, crest, and mantling, viz., 1 and 4, or, a chevron azure between three lions' heads erased proper, a chief gules; 2 and 3, argent, a chevron between three Moors' heads couped at the neck sable. Crest: A lion's head erased proper, collared azure, thereon three annulets, or. It sets forth that Robert Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, clerk, M.A., Rector of Ludgevan, and a Justice of the Peace, died 1 Feb. 1705, aged 47, having married Judith, daughter of Francis Burges of St. Earth, gent., and had issue, Francis Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, Esq., who married Penelope, daughter of Sidney Godolphin, Esq. He died 7 Nov. 1711, aged 25, leaving an only son, Robert Hoblyn, Esq., who inherited the estates of his ancestors. In the same vault lies Richard, only son of Richard Pendarves of Pendarves, Esq., by Elizabeth his wife, daughter of Mr. Thomas Corbit of London, merchant, who died 4 June, 1706, aged 21. This monument was erected by William Pendarves of Pendarves, his cousin-german. Thomas Pendarves, M.A., Rector of this parish and Vicar of Mawgan, son of Richard Pendarves of Pendarves, by Catherine, daughter of William Arundell of Menedarva, Esq., married Grace, second daughter of Robert Hoblyn of Nanswhyden, Esq., and had issue one son, William, and a daughter, Grace. He died 16 March, 1703, aged 59. A monument was erected by the widow of the above William Pendarves, daughter of Sidney Godolphin, and who was knighted by Queen Anne in the twenty-third year of his age, and died 13 March, 1726, aged 37, and was buried in Camborne church by his sister, the wife of Mr. Robert Coster.

The arms of Vivian have evidently no right to be attached to this monument; but when the church was restored the monuments were moved and broken, and many destroyed. The inscription itself is almost illegible.

Mural tablet for Edmund Hearle, gent., who died 16 Dec. 1796, aged 39.

Mural tablet for Rev. John Trefusis, M.A., who was for forty-two years Rector of this church, and who died Feb. 14, 1843, aged 69. (There is, also, a small brass plate to this Rev. J. Trefusis.)

A slate slab much carved, and with these arms: First shield, a chevron between three lions' heads erased, a chief. Crest: on a wreath a lion's head erased, gorged with a collar, charged with three annulets (Vivian). Second shield, ermine, a calf passant gules. Crest: on a wreath a savage, holding in his right hand an oak sapling torn up by the roots (Cavell). It records that beneath lies buried Charles Vivian, Elizabeth Vivian, and one son, unbaptised, of the six sons and one daughter of John Vivian of Trewan, Esq. Charles was aged five years, Elizabeth was aged one year and a-half. John Vivian died 17 Sept. 1630.

A mural tablet in memory of Thomas Vivian and Ann, for forty years his wife. He died 18 May, 1616. She died 25 March, 1635. John Vivian, their son and heir, married Frances, daughter and heir of Francis Buller, Esq. She died 6 Nov. 1613, and he married secondly, Mary, daughter and co-heiress of William Cavell, Esq., and their son and heir John Vivian married Anne, daughter of Sir John Trelawny, Knight and Baronet. She died 17 March, 1638, having had issue John and Elizabeth.

Mural tablet for Anne, daughter of Sir John Trelawny, Bart., and wife of John Vivian, eldest son and heir of John Vivian and Mary his wife, daughter and co-heir of William Cavell, Esq. She had issue John and Elizabeth, and died 17 March, 1638.

Mural monument, carved and coloured after the style of the period, surmounted with the arms with helmet and mantling, viz., Per pale, or, a chevron azure between three lions' heads erased proper, a chief gules impaling or, two bends engrailed sable. Crest: a lion's head erased proper, gorged with a collar azure, charged with three annulets argent. In memory of Frances, wife of Thomas Vivian of Trewan, Esq., and one of the sisters of William Blathwayt of Ditham, co. Gloucester, who died 16 March, 1707.

In the Churchyard.

Against the outside of the north wall is a large monument with three shields, the centre one, Per pale, on a bend three lions passant gardant, in chief a crescent for difference; on the shield to the dexter side are three falcons' heads erased (Sawle); on that to the sinister side, a chevron between three lions' heads erased, and a chief (Vivian). James Beauford, M.A., sometime Rector of Lanteglos; he married, first, Ann, daughter of Joseph Sawle, Esqr of Penrice. He married secondly, Jane, daughter of John Vivian, and died 19 March, 1720, aged 69.

Another mural tablet near the last, for Samuel Nicholls Nankivell, died 22 Augt 1816, aged 34. James Stevens Nankivell, died 12 Feb. 1806, aged 4 months. James Stevens Nankivell, died 18 April, 1808, aged 14 months. Frances Nankivell, died 25 Feb. 1819, aged 14 years and 8 months. Catherine, wife of the above Samuel Nankivell, died 26 June, 1853, aged 71.

Also, inscriptions for—

John Hicks of Retallick, in this parish, died 11 Sept. 1818, aged 62.

John Hicks, son of the late John Hicks of Retallick and Betty his wife, died 15 June, 1832, aged 42.

Joseph Hicks Rowe, son of James Rowe and Betsey his wife, of Trevithick in this parish, died 20 June, 1847, aged 31.

Sarah Tregenna, youngest daughter of the Rev. John Tregenna, Rector of Mawgan and Roach, died 10 May, 1807, aged 61.

The above Samuel Nicholls Nankivell was the youngest of the six children of Thomas Nankivell, Esq., Surgeon, of Wadebridge (born in 1736 and died in 1822). S. N. Nankivell lived at St. Columb, and had five children, of whom the only survivor is the present John Hicks Nankivell, Esq., M.R.C.S., etc., of York, of whose six children four sons survive, the eldest being Herbert Nankivell, Esq., M.D., of Bournemouth, Hants. The name Nankivell is pure Keltic, and means the "Glen of Woodcocks;" a glen so-called (generally spelt Nanskevall), with its fine old oak wood, lies about two miles from St. Columb.

For the imperfections of the Work I must crave the forbearance of those who consult it. The transcript was made with great care, and it was intended to have read the proof sheets with the original Register; but notwithstanding the ready permission to transcribe these Registers for printing accorded by the Rector, the Rev. H. L. Ventris, M.A., and the Churchwardens, George Browne Collins, Esq., and Henry Whitford, Esq., when it was decided to issue the Work in a periodical form, the Rector took such an objection to the alteration, that he refused permission for the comparison to be made, and that must, therefore, be the excuse for any errors or omissions; but such, I believe, will be found to be few and unimportant.

Circumstances have prevented any variations or additions being made from the Archdeacon's transcripts at Bodmin, as was at first intended, and the notes being otherwise extended.

The opportunity is here taken to acknowledge the thanks due for the facilities given by the Clergymen of the various parishes from whose Registers extracts have been made for the purpose of annotating this Work, and also the cordial assistance rendered by other gentlemen, especially by Col. J. L. Chester, LL.D., and Colonel Vivian.

The thanks of Genealogists are due to the publishers, Messrs. Mitchell and Hughes, for the careful manner in which they have carried out the printing and embellishment of the Work, and in having taken upon themselves the responsibility of the heavy expense of making the experiment as to whether this class of work can be made to pay its own way, the result of their enterprise in the present instance being a loss, chiefly arising from the bulk of the work.

The elaborate Index, involving considerable labour, has been prepared, with his usual care and skill, by Mr. W. Wood Davis, M.A., of Plymouth.

Plymouth, January, 1881.

* Descended from Anthony Tanner, gent., who mar. at St. Enoder, 5 Feb. 1630, Dorothy, dau. of Zachary Arundell of St. Enoder, gent. Among other monuments to the family of Tanner, at St. Enoder, is one for Anthony Tanner, gent., who died May, 1708; also Arundell Tanner his son buried 2 June, 1708, which bears the following shield of arms, viz., quarterly 1 and 4, on a chief three blackamores' heads couped, a crescent for difference; Tanner. 2, six martlets, a mullet for difference. 3, Fretty, a martlet for difference. Crest, a talbot's head couped, in the mouth a bird-bolt. The arms are carved on the slate slab forming the monument, consequently, no colours are given, and it may be noted that the martlets of Arundell are 3 and 3, and Tanner in the fourth quarter is placed on a lozenge.

* This family were descended from John, second son of Humphry Lawrence, who died 9 June, 1669, and to whose memory there exists a mural monument in the chancel of Cubert Church, erected by his brother, Thomas Lawrence, Vicar of St. Winnow for forty-five years, and died s. p. in 1722, having brought up Arthur, John, and Jane, the three infant and orphan children of his brother Humphry above, by his wife Jane, dau. and heir of John Davies of Carines in the parish of Cubert, gent. Arthur became an Attorney-at-Law, died 19 April, 1699, whose great-grandson, Northmore Lawrence of Launceston, cleaned and repaired the above monument. John was ancestor of Lawrence of St. Columb, now extinct in the male line. Jane mar. . . . . Berzey of Fowey, merchant.

* John Menheere, in 1594, gave a silver ball to the parish. (Green Book.) The ancient practice of hurling the silver ball is still kept up with considerable spirit. The game consists of a contest between the male inhabitants of the town quarter, and those of the rural part of the parish; the one who can carry the ball to the appointed goal keeping it for the ensuing year. A preliminary hurl takes place on Shrove Tuesday, but the following Saturday week is the great day, when business is suspended, and all classes and ages take part in the contest.

* This Sir John Arundell was of Lanherne, the son and heir of Sir Thomas Arundell of Lanherne, by his wife Catherine, daughter of Sir John Dinham and sister and co-heir of John, Lord Dinham. He was aged 11 years at his father's death in 1485. He married first, Lady Elizabeth Grey, daughter of Thomas Grey, first Marquis of Dorset (by his second wife Cecilia, daughter and heiress of William, Lord Bonville and Harrington), by whom he had issue, Sir John Arundell of Lanherne; Sir Thomas Arundell, ancestor of the Lords Arundell of Wardour; Elizabeth, married Sir Richard Edgcumbe; Jane, died unmarried, buried with a monumental brass at Mawgan. Sir John married secondly, Catherine, daughter of Sir Thomas Grenville, kt, (by his first wife Isabella, daughter of Otes Gilbert), by whom he had issue one daughter, Mary married first to Robert Ratcliffe, Earl of Sussex, K.G., and secondly to Henry FitzAlan, 18th Earl of Arundell, K.G. There is a fine monumental brass to the memory of this Sir John in the church of St. Columb Major, fully described in the notes on the monuments remaining in the church; see introduction.

* He either purchased Trenowth, or has some think succeeded to it by descent, his father having probably married the heiress or co-heiress of Trenowth, it being not uncommon at that period to use the alias in such a case. His will was proved Sep. 27, 1550. He was father of Richard Vyvyan, of Trenowth, who names him as "lately deceased."

† These names were probably acquired, like some others, by residence on lands so called in this parish.

‡ See burial of his widow in Dec. 1546.

* The Lady Chapel is on the south side of the chancel, and belonged to the Arundells of Lanherne, who have a vault beneath it, and their monuments formerly stood within it. Although this is the last entry in the registers of a priest with the old title of "Sir," we find in the parish "Green Book," the style in use as late as 1585, in which year an entry records that Sir Robert Veale, clerk, and John Grace, were to keep the keys of the poor man's box pro temp.

* By Katherine Pube his wife.

† John Mondaie of St. Columb Minor, gent., gave by will money to the poor of St. Columb Major. (Green Book, 1585.) This family had the manor of Rialton, in Lower St. Columb, through the means of Tho. Munday Prior, of Bodmin, whose brother, John Munday, first settled there about 1540; they retained their position at Rialton for several generations, but eventually became very much reduced in circumstances.

‡ He was one of the twelve men in 1595-1600; his widow, Mary Boscowen, was buried 29 March, 1611. Who this Hugh Besconan was is not quite clear; the only person of the Tregothnan family whom, according to Col. Vivian's pedigree, it could possibly be, was Hugh Boscawen, who married Mary, daughter of Thomas Tredinnick, and who, according to the Inq., p.m.., died 20 May, 1608 (6 Jas.) He held (inter alia) Tregamere, in St. Columb Major, his son and heir Hugh being then (20 May, 1608) aged 16 years. Vide Inq. p.m., 15 Jas. W. and L., B. 27, No. 152.

‡ John Troublefield, one of the churchwardens in 1690. This name appears in these registers as early as 1589 (see p. 14), and remained in the parish for several generations, sometimes as Troublefield alias Thomas. The name occurs prior to this date in a gentle position in Devonshire and Dorset. James Troublefield, born in Dorsetshire, was consecrated Bishop of Exeter 1 May, 4 of Mary, 1556, and died 1 Nov., 1559. In an old heraldic MS. in the Plymouth and Cottonian Library, the arms of Troublefield (Turbervill or Turbervile of Samford) are given as, 'Erm. a lion ramp. gu., crowned or, langued and armed az.' It also states that the Bishop bore the same arms, giving for his motto "La famiglia des Justes deliavera." John Turbervile, Esq., was sheriff of Devon, 29 Hen. VI. 1451. The name of Turbervile occurs once in these registers.

* In 1636 Thomas Oxenham paid 6s. 8d. for the burial of his wife.—Green Book.

† He was a younger son of John Carter of St. Columb, gent., by his wife Jane, daughter of John Vivian, gent. He died unmarried. John Carter, Esq. paid to the parish for the burial of his brother 20s.

‡ He was of Nanswhyden, being son and heir of Richard Hoblyn, gent. (who purchased Nanswhyden from John Nanswhyden). by his wife Philippa, daughter and coheir of John Pye. He married first Judeth, daughter and heir of Edward Trevalcois of Goran, and secondly Dorothy, daughter of John Dinham, but she died s.p. By his first wife he was ancestor of the present family. There is a ledger stone to his memory, which is fully described with the other monuments in the church elsewhere.

‖ By his second wife Mary, daughter and coheiress of William Cavell and Jane his wife, daughter of William Pomeroy. Esq. These children are recorded on a monumental slab in the church, which will be found described with the other monuments; on it Charles is said to be aged 5 years, and Elizabeth one year and a half.

¶ In 1636 Mr. William Vivian paid 20s. for the burial of his wife, (but the burial does not appear to have been registered.)—Vide Green Book.

* With this year commence the certificates of burials in woollen; they are contained in a long narrow folio volume, written on paper, with limp parchment covers with, in place of clasps, pieces of cord to tie when the volume is closed. At the end of each year the officiating clergyman certifies its correctness, and it is signed by the justices.

It was originally intended to print these certificates in full at the end of the regular Register, but on account of the large amount of repetition involved it has been deemed best to mark the entries, which also appear in the certificates, with a W, noting any variations, etc., in foot notes. The certificates give the date of making the oath, which was generally a few days after the burial, and they were not entered regularly; thus, an entry in September precedes July, and one in June between two in October.

† This is the first certificate in the book. It is here given in full as an example of the others, which follow the same form: "There was oath made before John Vivian, Esq., by Christian Crap and Elizabeth Stevens that Thomas Skibbearow was buried in wollen only."

Jane Rowe, 10 Dec.; Alice Nichols, 16 Oct.; Grace Chapple, 31 Dec.; Richard, son of Robert Harris, 21 Feb.; Thomas Bounsell, 28 Feb.

† "John Berry, gent.," in certificate.

‡ He was the second son of Robert Hoblyn, of Nanswhyden, Esq., by Grace Carew, his wife. He married Damaris, daughter of . . . . Avant; she re-married Edward Hoblyn, of Croane (who died 27 April, 1704); she was burried at Egloshayle, 8 Dec., 1713. The above Edw. Hoblyn, Esq., had an only daughter, Diana, baptized at St. Columb, 18 Dec., 1683, and was married to William Bickford, of Dunsland. In the footnote at page 72, Edw. Hoblyn, of Croane, who married the widow of the above Edw. Hoblyn, is inadvertantly given as the father of Damaris, wife of William Bickford, which error is here corrected.

ADDENDA ET CORRIGENDA.

„ 27, In the first entry, for Nymise, read Nynnise.

„ 28, Aug. 10, 1617. From this Thomas is descended Lord Vivian of Glynn; his grandson, Tho. Vivian of Comprigney, by his wife Lucy Glynn, had a son Thomas, Vicar of Cornwood, co. Devon, from 1747 to his death at the age of 71, in 1793, and was buried with a monument in the church, having the arms of Vivian of Trewan on it. He was grandfather of the first Lord Vivian of Glynn.

„ 36, Feb. 17, 1630, for Marryall, read Marshall.

„ 38, July 14, 1633. for John, read Degory.

„ 39, Feb. 9, 1633, for Agnes, read Ann.

„ 52, Note; also note, page 54. This Isabella and Alice were sisters of Samuel Travers, Esq., M.P. The Isabella and Alice named in his will were daughters of his brother, the Rev. Elias Travers of Dublin. Their father, the Rev. Thomas Travers, matriculated at Cambridge and entered Magdalene College in 1637, took his B.A. in 1640–1, and M.A. in 1644. (He was the second son of the Rev. Samuel Travers, Vicar of Thorverton, Devon, who died in 1648, and grandson of John Travers, Rector of Farringdon, Devon, who married in 1580, Alice, daughter of John Hooker, Chamberlain of Exeter.) Thomas Travers married, according to Calamy, "a niece of the noble Lord Robartes," and, as Dr. Boyse tells us, his son Elias was nephew to John Lord Robartes; and his son Samuel, the M.P., used the arms of Rous (or, an eagle displayed azure), quartered with those of Travers. It would appear that Tho. Travers, the Rector of St. Columb, must have married Elizabeth, daughter of William Rous of Halton, by Mary sister of John Lord Robartes; this Elizabeth married first her cousin, Francis Rous of Wootton-under-Ridge, co. Gloucester. The Rev. Thomas Travers was lecturer at St. Andrew's church, Plymouth, prior to going to St. Columb, in which church were baptized his son Elias, and a son Samuel buried at St. Columb 27 Oct., 1651.

„ 74, Sep. 24, 1687, eodem die, inadvertently inserted as in the original, instead of the previous date being repeated.

„ 86, Note. Since this note was printed information has been received from Tho. Hoblyn, Esq., of Welshpool, from which it appears that this Penelope was not a daughter of the first Earl of Godolphin, as generally supposed, but a daughter of Col. Sidney Godolphin, Lord of Bron-e-arth (grandson of John Godolphin and Judith Meredith), who married Susanna, daughter and heiress of Rhys Tanat, Esq., heiress of Abertanat. In the register of Llanblodwell, Denbighshire, is the burial of Susanna, daughter of Francis Hoblyn and Penelope his wife, in 1711, having been born the same year; her brother, Robert Hoblyn, was born in 1710.

„ 146, Sep. 30, 1609, for Saple, read Staple.

„ 146, Nov. 23, 1608, for Alce, read Alec.

„ 147, Dec. 19, 1612, for Juth, read Inch. This Ursula is named in the will of her brother, Richard Vivian of St. Columb, in 1655, who also mentions, "My cousin Wm Inches three children," he probably meant nephew. It was usual at that period to call a nephew or niece, 'cousin.' The Inch family lived at St. Kew.

„ 167, July 27, 1730, for Anne, read Samll.

„ 185, Sept. 27, 1548, for Mell, read Melvis.

„ 228, Note. The entry of the burial of John Carter, the father, does occur in the register on the date given in the note, but was omitted in the transcript.

„ 234, May 14, 1679, add the following to the note: John Beauford matriculated from Exeter College, 21 June, 1633, aged 16, son of Wm Beauford of St. Columb, paying the fees of a Plebeian's son. William Beauford, aged 16, and James Beauford, aged 15, brothers, matriculated at Oxford from Exeter College, 10 July, 1668, as sons of John Beauford, minister of St. Colomb, Cornwall. They both took the degree of B.A., 20 April, 1672, and M.A., 19 Jan., 1674-5. There were no others of the name at Oxford.

„ 238, Note ‡ At the seventh line, for Diana, read Damaris, as elsewhere in the note. Damaris, daughter of John Avent, gent., and Damaris his wife, baptized 5 Dec., 1663, at Plympton St. Mary, and married there as Damaris Hoblyn to Edward Hoblyn, 8 Sep., 1692.

„ 287, Note. Though said by his representative to have been a brother of Sir Hugh Bateman, Bart., upon search being made no trace of Robert Bateman can be found in any pedigree of Bateman of Hartington. No one of this name was ever at Oxford, nor was his degree either from Cambridge or Dublin; possibly it may have been from Edinburgh, or else an Archbishop's degree. There was a Robert Bateman, of Queen's College, Cambridge, A.B in 1721, A.M. 1725, M.D. 1732.
